

*YOU ARE HERE : HOME > RESEARCH ACTIVITIES > PUBLICATIONS > ARTICLES

Space Industry Faces Deep Transformations Post-COVID-19. Par Lucien Rapp

ON THE AUGUST 19, 2020

Photo Credit: Wallpaper Flare.

<https://www.hec.edu>

The image of a Falcon rocket topped by the Crew Dragon capsule designed and manufactured by private company SpaceX as part of a NASA mission, has struck world public opinion in May 2020. Like its landing in the Gulf of Mexico a few weeks later, in early August. It illustrates the profound changes that have affected the space industry in recent years. In this article, Professor of international business law Lucien Rapp describes the transformation of the space industry and the strategies developed to enter the space market, as well as the challenges of its privatization for the future of the industry.

Read more